"George Glies, of Carbandale," says feature of the market. The common the Anthracite, "is the inventor of a fell from 12% to 10%, and the preferred culm cleaner and coal washer which from 38 to 35½. Small holders were promises to be adopted for universal use and at the same time make its Jersey Central was bid up to 931/2, and father one of the financial powers of this checked the decline for a time, but the country. He is in receipt of letters | in the final dealings the selling was re patent and has placed his models and specifications in the hands of the Hendricks Manufacturing company, which are now making an estimate on the cost of manufacturing the machine, which will soon be placed on the market. The machine consists of two cylinders, one fitting closely over the ferred, 11/2 to 43; Richmond Terminal, rim of the other, forming a water tight joint, and being constructed in a manner that permits of their separation easily and quickly. The upper one is a perfect circle, while the lower one is cone shaped, the small end being down. In the bottom of the tub or upper cylinder is a perforated sheet iron plate, beneath which is a screw propeller which forces the refuse out of an opening in the bottom of the catch basin or lower cylinder. On the upper side of the per- ton forated disc are wings or paddles fo agitating the coal and keeping the mass lifted from the plate. On one side of the tub is a tweer or sluice way through which the cleaned and prepared coal passes. The revolution of the paddles-set on a slight inclineraises the coal to a level with the open ing and from the tub it is forced into a screen of shaker, or both. The tub is fed by a chute or funnel at the top regulated by the momentum of the paddles to prevent blocking or over Water is also fed from the top, and to every two inches of water supplied, three-fourths or one incl passes out at the bottom of the catch basin with the mud, and the balance is forced through the sluice with the clear coal. The capacity of a test machine built for use at the Fall Brook mine is one ton in seven or nine minutes Its cylinders are three feet in diameter the tub being two and a half feet deep In the machines to be constructed, Mr Giles says, the capacity will be governed entirely by the demands. With re quisite power he claims that one of his tubs will clean a ton of coal per minute but, he added, that two-horse powe would suffice for the smaller cleaners The estimated cost of construction of the machines is $400. The Philadelphia Press' financial edi tor regards as very important the a tion which the individual operator took at their New York meeting. "Th companies, as is well known," he say "bring from the individual operator some 12,000,000 tons of coal per annua for 60 per cent. of the tidewater price of coal at New York. This average fe stove at the present time is about $2 pe ton at the mines, which is all that is received by the individual operators. The companies put an entirely different price on coal delivered at Buffalo along the line of their roads and in Philadelphia. At this time while the individual operators are getting $2 for stove coal at the mines based on tide prices the companies are getting $2.40 at the mines for coal delivered along the line, at Buffalo and in Philadelphia. The feeling of the individual operators is that they are not getting enough money for their coal or that the price of coal at other points is too high. The matter is an extremely important one, as it will lower the price of coal at practically all non-competitive points and interfere with an arrangement which is as old as the coal trade."

MINOR INDUSTRIAL NOTES: The Lehigh Valley shops at Delano are working thirteen hours a day, with enough work ahead to last for months. The earings of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, for October, this year, dropped below those of October, 1893,

The Lake Shore is running its shops full time and full-handed, and in some departments sixteen hours a day. The work is largely repairs.

In railroad circles the revival of the Trans-continental association is thought to be imperative, since the Canadian Pacific has inaugurated its low rates. The Wilkes-Barre and Eastern is surveying a route from Yatesville to connect with the Eric and Wyoming Valley railroad in Pitston. A good deal of coal from this road, as well as from the Delaware and Hudson, will be run over the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern. Six new Babcock boilers, which the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre are connecting at No. 4 slope, Audenried, are now ready for use. The boilers in position since the place was first opened are unable to furnish enough steam to hoist two cars a trip, hence the improve-

J. D. Caryl, superintendent for the Hillside Coal and Iron company, at Forest City, for the past nine years, has resigned his position, to take effect Dec. 1, next. He will be succeeded by Victor Peterson, an employe of the company at Scranton for many years. Mr. Caryl will reside in Scranton

YOUNG CHRISTIANS.

Enthusiastic Meeting of the Endeavorers at Hallstend.

Hallstead, Pa., Nov. 18 .- The conven ion held on Wednesday by the Jefferson Branch union, Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor was a grand success in every way. Many will return to their homes inspired with new zeal for their work. There were be tween seventy and eighty guests and delegates.

The following were among the prominent speakers present from out of town: Rev. J. R. Egan, of Forest City, president of the union; Rev. P. B. Kennedy, Forest City; Rev. H. J. Crane, Uniondale; Rev. T. A. Hughes, of Montrose; Rev. T. P. Jepson, Carbondale; J. T. Ball, Honesdale; Rev. J. S. Crompton, Great Bend. Over-flow meetings were held in the Young Men's Christian Association hall and the Presbyterian church. Delegates responded at the roll call from nearly every society in the union. Rev. L. W. Chruch gave the address f welcome, and Rev. O. Boughton, of Susquehanna, responded.

Excellent addresses were made by Revs. John Davis, Hughes and Cromp ton; also an able paper was read by W. W. Aclair on "The Likes and Dislikes in Endeavor Work" during the afternoon session, interspersed with excellent singing led by B. A. Bauman, of Binghamton, and fine solos by Miss Lowry,

TO OUR PATRONS:

Washburn-Crosby Co. wish to assure their many patrons that they will this year hold to their usual custom of milling STRICTLY OLD WHEAT until the new crop is fully cured. New wheat is now upon the market, and owing to the excessively dry weather many millers are of the opinion that it is already cured, and in proper condition for milling. Washburn-Crosby Co. will take no risks, and will allow the new wheat fully three months to mature before grinding.

This careful attention to every detail of milling has placed Washburn-Crosby Co.'s flour far above other
